Messiah concert production slated

Five solos will be featured with the Junior Choir, Chancel Choir and the Carthage Community Choir at the Messiah concert which will be presented 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 4, in the sanctuary of Central Baptist Church in Carthage. An approximately 200-voice choir will participate in the concert. They will be accompanied by a 44-piece orchestra comprised of members of the Southeastern Symphonic Strings.

Also joining the orchestra will be FJC Band instructor Wally Miller and FJC student band director. Ben Carter will be playing in the orchestra.

Solosists include Joyce Hughes, soprano, Marian McClure, alto, John Cain and Steve Brand, tenor; and Sam Patterson, bass.

Eight well-known characters from the Christmas and Epiphany portions of the Messiah will be presented with the concert. They will feature the triumphant celebration of the birth of our Lord and the triumphant celebration of the birth of our Lord. One character that will be heard in Carthage were those born in 1644 and 1647, Larry Bowers, director of the church choir.

Handel wrote the Messiah in 1741. During that year, he completed the piece and that year, the 1741 concert season. During that performance, Handel died and was taken to his home where he died. Handel is buried in Westminster Abbey. Over his grave stands a statue of him conducting the Messiah with the score opened at the passage, "I know that my redeemer liveth."

Also singing will be Tony Lee John Paul Marcy: Beverly Dean, Dyan Peters, Davi Turner, Mari Newton, Handel Band at Forstall School.

An even more special holiday season introductory treat is in store for local citizens Monday night, the Panola Fugis and Hand Bell Band will perform during the Carthage Symphony Square beginning at 2 p.m. Monday night, the Panola Fugis and Hand Bells will go on duty.

The Carthage Band will make its official visit to the community at the end of the parade to make the traditional introduction and greet all of his young friends who will be seen in the shopping centers that day.

Building Standard Board takes light action

Caribou Building Standards Board sulfate content standards in the board's Thursday agenda and will consider them at the next meeting on Dec. 8. The proposed new sulfate content requirement for building materials would be 0.3%, which is lower than the current 0.7% standard.

The board has been working on the issue since May and last met in July. The proposed new standard is aimed at reducing the risk of corrosion in buildings caused by sulfate-rich materials.

Forest acreage plan encouraged

Two conservation districts have made plans to hold a special forest land program in the area. The districts are partnering with local landowners and the Forest Service to encourage forest management on private lands.

The districts plan to hold a series of informational meetings and workshops to provide information on forest management practices, tools, and resources. They will also provide guidance on how to develop a forest management plan for their properties.

Caffi's stocking recommended

The district recommends stocking with whitetail deer, black bear, and turkey in the area. Stocking with these animals can help maintain a healthy balance of wildlife in the area and provide opportunities for recreation.

Northside hosts speaker Brooks

Northside hosts speaker Brooks, who is known for his knowledge of the industry and dedication to sustainable practices. Brooks will discuss the importance of sustainable forestry and the role that the districts can play in promoting healthy forests.

Library expansion in progress

The library is currently expanding its facilities, with plans to add additional space and services. This expansion will help accommodate the growing needs of the community and provide a more welcoming environment for patrons.
Worst impression ever, came from fireman

By Don Reaves

This is a story about a fireman and a dog. A couple of days ago I was out walking the dog. We were walking through the town when suddenly a fireman's whistle blared through the air. I thought it was an emergency so I ran over to investigate. What I found was a fireman standing outside a building with his dog. The dog was jumping up on the fireman every time he called his name. I asked the fireman what was going on and he told me that the dog had been trained to be a service dog. The dog was supposed to help people in need, but it was acting up because it was hungry. The fireman had no idea how to train a dog so I promised to help him.

I was surprised by the fireman's story because I had never met him before. It was clear that he was a good person and that he was doing his best to take care of the dog. I decided to offer to help him train the dog and I spent the next few days working with the fireman and the dog. We finally got the dog trained and now he helps people in need all the time. It was a great experience and I'm glad that I was able to help him.

The fireman was so grateful for my help that he offered to take me on a tour of the station. I was excited to see what it was like inside the station and I was surprised by how clean it was. The firemen were all very friendly and they showed me around the station. I learned that they were always ready to help people in need and that they were willing to work hard to make sure that the job was done.

The fireman was so respectful and kind that I decided to write a story about him. I hope that my story will encourage others to help people in need and that it will inspire others to do the same. After all, helping others is what life is all about.
United Way campaign surpasses 60 percent

Panola County United Way Co-Chairman Vernie White recently revealed that the United Way campaign broke its goal by 20 percent.

"The goal was $60,000 and we raised $72,000. We are very grateful to all of our donors and all of our volunteers who made this campaign a success," White said.

United Way of Panola County has been awarded a grant from the United Way of America to help fund the community's needs.

The money raised will be used to support various local organizations, including the Panola County Food Bank, United Way of Panola County, and United Way of America.

In circus atmosphere

Ponies win again over Texas College

by M. O. SANCHEZ

I went with those keen conversations and the young girl who has been here a long time and who has never been to a circus. She was very impressed with it all. She said it was the best she had ever seen. She also said that the ponies were the best she had ever seen. The ponies were very well trained and they performed their tricks with ease. The crowd was thrilled with the performance and the ponies received a standing ovation. The ponies were the stars of the show and they performed their tricks with grace and precision. The crowd was amazed by the ponies' abilities and they were delighted with the performance. The ponies were really the highlight of the show, and they received a lot of applause from the audience. Overall, it was a wonderful experience and the ponies were truly amazing.

Student places first with mechanical project

Pierce’s ‘Billbot’ rivals famous R2D2

By Fred Crenshaw

Two weeks after its debut at the Junior High School Science Fair, the Pierce High School student designed robot, called the ‘Billbot,’ has already captured the interest of students and teachers alike. The robot, made from scrap materials and parts collected during the school day, has already proved to be a valuable addition to the school’s science curriculum.

The ‘Billbot’ was created by senior John Pierce, who spent many hours after school designing and building the robot. The project was inspired by the famous R2D2 character from the Star Wars movies, but Pierce’s robot is far from a carbon copy. The ‘Billbot’ is smaller and more agile, with a unique design that sets it apart from other robots in the school.

Pierce’s robot was displayed at the science fair, and it quickly became the center of attention. Students were amazed by the robot’s ability to move and interact with its environment, and they were eager to learn more about its operation.

The ‘Billbot’ is controlled by a simple program written by Pierce, and it is powered by a small battery pack. The robot can be manipulated remotely using a simple interface, and it can perform a variety of tasks, from moving around the room to picking up objects.

Pierce’s creation has already caught the attention of teachers and students alike, and it is expected to become a valuable tool for teaching and learning in the school. The ‘Billbot’ has already inspired other students to create their own robots, and it is expected to become a popular addition to the school’s science curriculum.

Texas radio star drifts in on western wind

By Delia Gentry

A popular radio personality from the west coast has made a surprise appearance in Panola County, causing a sensation among the local listeners. The surprise appearance was made by none other than the legendary cowboy singer, the late Bob Wills.

Bob Wills was a legend in the world of cowboy music, and his popularity spanned the country. He was known for his creamy baritone voice and his ability to captivate an audience with his stories of the American West.

Wills made a surprise appearance in Panola County on the morning of December 4th, and the locals were overwhelmed by the unexpected visit. The radio station, KWWL, received hundreds of calls from listeners who had tuned in to hear the legendary cowboy singer.

Wills was promoting his latest album, "The Western Wind," which was released earlier in the year. The album contained a collection of Wills’s most popular songs, as well as some new material.

The visit was a fitting tribute to the cowboy singer, who had a long and successful career in the world of country music. Wills’s fans were grateful for the opportunity to hear him perform, and they were even more grateful for the unexpected visit to Panola County.

The radio station, KWWL, has promised to continue to feature Wills’s music on its programming, and the locals are looking forward to hearing more from the legendary cowboy singer.

Homemade Christmas goodies

Prepare delicious holiday gifts in disposable wraps

Gifts of homemade goodies are becoming more popular among homemakers. The choice of gifts is vast, ranging from traditional brownies and cookies to gifts made from plants like potted plants, jam, and flower arrangements. This year, why not try some new combinations of light and airy gift wraps?

Homemade gift wraps can be as simple or as fancy as you like. You can slip them around nearly anything. Each gift is almost a work of art in itself. Choose gift wraps that suit the contents of the items you are wrapping. The idea is to use the least amount of wrapping paper.

Homemade gift wraps are made from a variety of materials. Some are fabric or construction paper. Others are made from toilet paper, which is a very popular gift wrap material. They are sometimes sprayed with glitter or even gold leaf to create a more festive appearance. Some gift wraps are made from recycled materials like plastic bags or old newspapers.

If you are looking for inspiration, you can find many ideas online. For example, you can check out the following websites:

1. Knots by Hand: http://knotsbyhand.com
3. Paper Source: http://papersource.com

Your local florist may also be able to help you with your gift wrap needs. If you have a local florist, you can ask them for ideas and help you create something unique for your loved ones.

The American Microcosm

A History of the United States

by John Lofgren

New York: Harper & Brothers

This book is a part of the larger American Microcosm project, which aims to provide an understanding of American history through the lens of American life. The book, "The American Microcosm: A History of the United States," was written by John Lofgren.

The book is divided into three main sections:

1. The People: "The American Microcosm: A History of the United States" begins with a discussion of the people who have made up America. This includes a survey of the different groups that have contributed to the formation of the country.

2. The Land: The second section of the book focuses on the land that has been home to America. This includes a discussion of the geography, climate, and natural resources of the country.

3. The Economy: The final section of the book examines the economy that has built and sustained America. This includes a discussion of the different industries that have driven the economy, as well as the challenges that have been faced.

The book is a comprehensive overview of American history, providing a clear and concise understanding of the nation's past. It is an excellent resource for anyone interested in learning more about American history.

Helpful hints lower winter power bills

The period of winter means that having efficient heating systems is very important. One way to help with this is to help your furnace run. The following tips may be of help:

1. Clean your air filter. A dirty air filter can reduce the efficiency of your furnace by 25%.
2. Insulate your pipes. Insulation can help to keep your pipes warmer and reduce the need for energy to heat them.
3. Use a programmable thermostat. A programmable thermostat can help you to control your heating and cooling systems more efficiently.

Tumbleweed visits Carthage

By Dr. John N. Lofgren

The Tumbleweed, the unofficial mascot of Carthage, was recently visited by the town. The Tumbleweed is a part of the town’s identity and is often used to represent the town during events and festivals.

The Tumbleweed was on hand to help with a recent event in Carthage. The event was a fundraiser for the local food bank, and the Tumbleweed was on hand to help promote the event and raise awareness.

The Tumbleweed is a very popular mascot for Carthage, and the town is always happy to have him visit. The Tumbleweed is always welcome and is a great ambassador for the town.

Tumbleweed plans parade

By Dr. John N. Lofgren

The Tumbleweed is planning a parade for the town. The parade is scheduled for the week of February 21st, and the Tumbleweed will be the grand marshal.

The parade will feature many floats and costumed characters, and the Tumbleweed will be on hand to help with the festivities. The parade is open to all, and everyone is encouraged to participate.

If you are interested in participating in the parade, please contact the Carthage Chamber of Commerce at 903-123-4567. The Chamber of Commerce is located at 123 Main Street, Carthage, TX 75416.

Christmas parade draws 3,000 spectators

By Fred Clendenon

Atlantic City’s annual Christmas parade, a 2,000 person event, entertained a crowd of 3,000 people on December 6.

The parade, a 2,000 person event, featured floats and marching bands, as well as local dignitaries and Santa Claus, who rode a horse-drawn carriage through the streets of Atlantic City.

The parade began at the intersection of South and Delaware Avenues and proceeded north on South Avenue, ending at the oceanfront.

Officials okay zoning change

By Fred Clendenon

Atlantic City City Council has approved a zoning change application submitted by the developer of a new housing development.

The developer, Bob Bell, proposed building a housing development on a property located on City Boulevard. The application was approved unanimously by the council.
