Teer supports U.S., German festivities during celebration honoring Air Force

Air Force Staff Sgt. Howard E. Teer III, son of Howard E. and Shirley Teer, Sr., of Lake City, Fla., is being honored by the U.S. government and the German government for his contributions to the Air Force and his role in helping to build the relationship between the two countries. He is being recognized for his service during World War II, when he served as a ball turret gunner aboard a B-24 bomber. He was awarded the Air Force Cross, the highest award given by the U.S. military, for his actions in the Pacific Theater. He is also being honored in Germany, where he lived for many years, for his contributions to the community and his service to the country.

Carthage resident awarded scholarships to SBTS

Jeffrey D. Jones, a 1999 graduate of Carthage High School, was one of the 12 students selected to receive a scholarship from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary (SBTS) in Louisville, Ky. The scholarship is worth $18,000 per year and covers tuition, fees, and living expenses. Jones plans to pursue a degree in theology and is considering a career in pastoral ministry. He is the son of David and Tena Jones of Carthage. The scholarship is awarded to students who demonstrate academic excellence and a commitment to the Christian faith.
Minister viewed different lifestyle while teaching

Cuba's needs observed by McGuire

A Carriage minister assigned to teach English in some cities of Cuba had a wonderful experience while teaching. The minister, Mr. McGuire, reported that the people were very receptive and eager to learn. They were particularly interested in learning about their own history and culture. McGuire explained that the main challenge was to find ways to connect with the students and create a safe and welcoming learning environment.

While teaching, McGuire realized that the students were not only interested in learning, but also wanted to have fun. They enjoyed sharing their own cultural experiences and stories. McGuire's minister thought, "It was a great experience to be able to share the gospel and see the growth in the students. It was a privilege to be a part of their journey."

Mr. McGuire, who is originally from Australia, decided to stay in Cuba for a few months to continue teaching. He plans to return to Australia once he completes his mission there. McGuire expressed his gratitude to the Cuban government for allowing him to teach and work in the country. His ministry is continuing to support and work with the local community to promote education and cultural exchange.

Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest and appeal assessed property values if they believe the assessment is not accurate. The process begins with filing a protest with the local appraisal district. If the protest is denied, the property owner may appeal the decision to the appraisal district's Appraisal Review Board (ARB). If the ARB upholds the appraisal district's decision, the property owner can file a lawsuit in county court. The process can be time-consuming and requires careful attention to detail.

Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law grants property owners the right to protest and appeal assessments, so it is important to understand the procedures. If you have any questions, contact the property tax protest office.

In the event of a special appeal, the process is as follows:

- Appeal of your property: You can appeal the assessment to the local tax board, and if you are not satisfied, you can appeal to the state tax board.
- Review of your property: This is a formal process where the property is reviewed by tax assessors.
- Decision of your appeal: This is a formal hearing where the tax board will make a decision on your appeal.
- Review of the decision: If you are not satisfied with the decision, you can appeal to the state tax board.

Informal Review

If you believe the assessment is incorrect, you can make an informal review of your assessment with the assessor or a designated representative of the assessor. If you are not satisfied, you can appeal to the county tax board.

Deadline for Filing Protests with the AKB

- United Deadline: On or before May 31 for a notice of appeal to be filed with the county tax office. After May 31, you may appeal to the state tax board.

Special Deadline

- Special Deadline: The special deadline is the 30th day before the appeal review hearing. If you appeal after this date, you may be subject to additional fees.

Clearwater Library by Sally Mary

Sally Mary, a local artist, has created a beautiful library in Carthage. The library is open to the public and is a wonderful place to escape and enjoy some quiet time. Sally Mary has also created a special section for children, which is a great place to read books and learn about art.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

AUSTIN — A spokesperson for the World Wildlife Fund of Austin said that the city would see a decrease in the urban heat island effect due to natural cooling from the upcoming heatwave. The spokesperson said that the city's efforts to reduce the heat island effect include the installation of reflective pavements, the creation of green spaces, and the use of cool Roofs. The Austin City Council has also approved a $10 million agreement with the University of Texas to study the impact of the heatwave on the city's water supply.

U.S. ENERGY DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCES $12 MILLION IN FEDERAL FUNDS FOR RENEWABLE ENERGY PROJECTS

The U.S. Department of Energy announced that it would award $12 million in federal funds to 12 projects across the country to support the development of renewable energy technologies. The projects include the development of new solar panel technologies, the creation of an offshore wind farm, and the construction of a biomass power plant. The projects are expected to create thousands of jobs and reduce the country's dependence on fossil fuels.

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE RELEASES 2017 YEAR-END REPORT

The National Park Service released its 2017 year-end report, which showed that the agency had achieved its goal of attracting 300 million visitors in 2017. The report also showed that the agency had made significant progress in reducing the number of littered park areas and in improving the safety of visitors.

OTHER CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

- The National Park Service announced that it would be closing 10 parks in the nation due to budget cuts. The closures include the national parks in California, Utah, and Arizona.
- The National Academy of Sciences released a report on climate change, which warned that the world is facing a climate emergency.
- The U.S. Department of Agriculture announced that it would be implementing new regulations to protect the rights of farm workers.
