Appendix:

The document below, Minimum Grading Standards (for English 1301), is the evaluation instrument used for all student essays submitted in the course. These standards may be modified for shorter assignments such as paragraph-length assignments. In addition, these are considered end-of-course standards, and may be applied by individual instructors accordingly. These standards also apply to other English courses (1302, 2311, 2322, 2323).

Minimum Grading Standards

To be considered passing, an essay written in English 1301 must exhibit that the student writer has followed both oral and written instructions, organized the paper coherently, developed it with significant content, and written in correct grammatical form.

--A passing essay must be over a topic appropriate to the assignment. If the essay requires a minimum number of examples and points, then that minimum must be met.

--In argumentative and expository discourse, the essay must have a clearly discernible thesis sentence and related topic sentences.

--The paper must reveal some systematic pattern of organization based on or growing out of a central idea.

--The paper must offer specific support of the thesis (facts, examples, explanations, justifications, arguments,).

--The paper must be coherent.

--A passing essay may not contain any combination of three of these categories of errors:

--one or more sentence fragments clearly not used for a specific effect or for generally recognized rhetorical and stylistic purposes

--one or more fused sentences (run-on sentences)

--one or more comma splices

By the end of the course, any paper which does not measure up to these standards should not be awarded a passing grade.

The following errors are considered insufficient alone to cause a paper to fail, unless the number is excessive:

--subject-verb agreement errors

--pronoun-antecedent agreement errors

--spelling errors or confusions between such common words as their-they're-there, its-it's, no-know, lose-

loose-loss, affect-effect, and/or such everyday words as occurrence, occasion, receive, among (not an all-inclusive list)

- spelling errors of less than common words
- misuse of commas, other than the comma splice
- misuse of the apostrophe --other punctuation errors
- shifts in person
- shifts in verb tense
- shifts in voice
- misplaced modifiers
